PROBE OF BOOZE
MYSTERY HINTEDFederal Investigators Here This Week Say They Will be Back
Tuesday to TestifyJUDGE. ORDERS GRAND JURYStolen Automobile Recovered at Lewisville May Have Some Connection With Case

It was intimated today that the county officials knew considerably more about the abandoned booze car than has been told, and it also became known today that the grand jury had been officially called into session Tuesday to investigate the findings of the officials as well as the government agents who have been here working on the case, in which two automobiles are involved.

L. A. Kidder, federal prohibition agent who is in charge of this district, and who came here after the large touring car Wednesday with Officer Winkler, told Prosecutor Stevens that they would come here Tuesday and testify before the grand jury.

R. H. Abel, who is a special agent for the government, was in Hamilton yesterday and learned of the Rushville case and came here with Jacob Lasarus of that city, who stated that he had had a machine stolen, and it was thought that the machine held at Lewisville was his property.

Mr. Abel while here conducted an investigation, and he too will be called upon to testify before the grand jury, it is said. The machine at Lewisville was said to be the one purchased here by two men, from a local automobile company.

The matter of the two machines, as well as the finding of 14 quarts hidden in the brush pile after the large car had been abandoned, has been much of a secret, and may involve someone locally, or else the county grand jury would not take up their time in the matter, it is believed.

Judge Sparks stated this morning that no call had been issued for the grand jury, but as one of the federal agents was leaving Rushville, his farewell words were to the effect that he would come Tuesday to testify before the county investigation.

PLEA OF RAILROADS
TO BE HEARD MONDAYJudge Anderson Sets Time For Hearing on Petition to Prevent State
Stopping Rate IncreaseSTATE DRAWS FIRST BLOOD

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 18.—Albert B. Anderson in federal court today set Monday morning at 10 o'clock for a hearing on the petitions for a temporary injunction filed today by the Baltimore and Ohio railroad against the public service commission and U. S. Lesh, attorney general, to prevent the state authorities from interfering with the roads in putting into effect the new passenger and freight rates, for intrastate traffic ordered by the interstate commerce commission yesterday.

The case will be heard by three judges, Judge Francis Baker, another judge in the circuit court of appeals in Chicago and Judge Anderson. However, Judge Anderson refused to grant temporary restrictive order saying that the railroads had not proven an emergency. This was a victory for the state.

Practically every railroad in Indiana engaged in interstate traffic is filing similar suits today in the federal court, which grew out of the order of the interstate commerce commission yesterday by which freight and passenger rates in Indiana for intrastate traffic were raised to the same level as now existing in the interstate rates.

Regardless of the outcome of Monday's hearing, it is believed the case will be carried to the United States supreme court.

DAY OF PRAYER IS OBSERVEDJoint Services Held by Women's Missionary Societies Today

The Women's Missionary societies of this city observed the day of Prayer for missions today with a joint meeting held at the Main Street Christian church this morning between the hours of 9:30 and 10:30. Between seventy-five and one hundred ladies attended the meeting, which was a deep spiritual hour devoted to prayer and praise. The day was set aside by the women of the country as a national day of prayer for missions.

LODGE TO OBSERVE
57TH ANNIVERSARYKnights of Pythias to Hold County Meeting Here Monday Night to Celebrate BirthdayCLASS TO TAKE FIRST RANK

A county meeting of the Knights of Pythias lodge will be held at the Knights of Pythias building next Monday night when a class of twenty-five or more candidates from the Rushville and Milroy lodges will be given the first rank in amplified form.

The county meeting has been arranged for the purpose of celebrating the fifty-seventh anniversary of the founding of Pythianism. Observance of the occasion is requested by the grand officers by every lodge in the United States and in Indiana the celebration will be in the form of county meetings in every county in the state. The actual birthday of the lodge is Saturday, February 19, but lodges are urged to hold the observance on their regular meeting night between February 15 and 25.

A large attendance of members from both lodges in the county is expected. Unusual interest has been aroused in the event.

BISHOP LEETE WILL PREACH HERE SUNDAYHead of Newly Created Indianapolis
Area of M. E. Church Will Visit RushvilleAN INFREQUENT OCCURRENCE

Bishop Frederick DeLand Leete, D. D., L. L. D. who is in charge of the newly created Indianapolis Area of the Methodist Episcopal church, will make his initial visit to Rushville next Sunday and will preach in St. Paul's church on Sunday evening at seven o'clock. His coming is anticipated with much interest and gratification and it is confidently expected that a great audience will greet the bishop and hear his message. The coming of a Bishop to any local church is an infrequent occurrence and it has been almost eight years since a Methodist Bishop visited Rushville, the occasion being the annual conference session which was held in St. Paul's church, at which Bishop William F. Anderson of Cincinnati presided.

Bishop Leete was elected to the episcopacy from the pastorate of the eight years in charge of the Atlanta Area in the south before coming to Indianapolis last fall. He is an unusually strong preacher, and administrator and is one of the outstanding leaders of Methodism. Bishop Leete has consented to address the students of the Graham high school on Monday morning.

FRANCE PREPARES TO ACT

Paris, Feb. 18.—France today began military preparations to compel German obedience to the reparation demand. Under terms of the allied agreement France was left a free hand in taking whatever action she believed necessary against Germany. A strong French faction is calling attention to the havoc created in France by Germany. The Echo-De-Paris pointed out today that the French soon will be practically alone in the occupation of Germany.

TO FIX DATE FOR CALLING COUNCILCounty Auditor Wilk to Confer With Richland Township Trustee Regarding RemonstranceAGAINST SCHOOL BOND ISSUESpecial Meeting of County Council May Include Two Other Remonstrances Being Prepared

Phil Wilk, county auditor, has written Fred Goddard, trustee of Richland township asking him, to call at the auditor's office and confer with him regarding a date for calling the county council to hear the remonstrance against the proposed bond issue for the erection of a consolidated school at Hawkin's corner.

The remonstrance against the issuance of the bonds was filed with the county auditor Thursday and it is said that since remonstrances against two other proposed improvements may be filed in a few days, it is barely possible that a date will be fixed on which the remonstrators in all three cases may be heard.

When the county council is called into special session, the new "home rule" law passed by the special session of the legislature last summer, will be invoked for the first time. The original tax law provided that all bond issues should be sanctioned by the state board of tax commissioners, but the legislature last summer passed a law providing that when the officers of any taxing unit gave notice of their intentions to issue bonds to pay for a public improvement twenty or more taxpayers of the unit could remonstrate in which event the county auditor must call the county council in special session to pass on the bonds. If the council sustains the remonstrance, taxing officials are without authority to issue bonds and go ahead with the improvement. The law provides the councilmen shall have extra pay at the rate of $5 a day each for such meetings.

It was stated today that a remonstrance against the issuing of bonds to pay for the permanent improvement of Harrison and Eighth streets in Rushville, under the three-mile road law, is being circulated, and that one will also be circulated against the proposed consolidated school house in Jackson township. In the event that these two remonstrances are filed in the near future, it is probable that the council will be called to hear all three remonstrances at one time. The law provides, however, that the auditor shall give notice of the calling of the council within two weeks after a remonstrance is filed and that the council shall meet within two weeks after the call is issued.

The contract for the Harrison and Eighth streets improvement was let last week to Lawrence Ennis of Arlington for $83,000 and the bonds cannot be issued, if a remonstrance is filed, until the issue is sanctioned by the council.

The remonstrance against the Richland township school building is signed by more than one hundred taxpayers and sets forth five reasons why the bond issue should not be permitted.

If the Richland and Jackson township trustees were successful in getting bond issues to erect consolidated school buildings, the district school would disappear entirely in Rush county because every other township has a consolidated school.

In the first place, the Richland township remonstrators set forth "That there is not at this time any existing necessity whatever for the issuance of bonds or other evidence of indebtedness for the above amount, or any amount whatever for said purpose."

"That said issue is excessive and will produce a greater amount of revenue than the economical administration of said township requires to properly and well educate the children enumerated for school purposes in said township."

It is furthermore alleged that there are not enough enumerated children of school age in the township to warrant the establishment

SAYS QUESTION OF
GATES IS NOT DEADCouncilman A. P. Wagoner Declares That Matter Will be Taken up at Next MeetingCONTRARY TO GENERAL BELIEFPersons at Council Meeting Tuesday Night Left With Impression
Nothing Would be Done

It was announced today through A. P. Wagoner, city councilman, who has been presiding at council meetings since Mayor A. B. Irvin has been out of the city, that the council had not dropped the matter of better protection from trains at the crossings of the Cincinnati, Indianapolis and Western railroad in this city.

This is contrary to the belief of persons attending the regular meeting Tuesday night when residents of Fourth street demanded a showdown on the question of whether crossing watchmen west of Main street were to be replaced with automatic bells and waving signal arms.

A number of people who were present at the meeting left with the impression that the council intended not to discuss the proposed ordinance, changing the flagmen, any further and the fact was published next day that the council intended to let the question rest.

But Councilman Wagoner made the unsolicited statement today that the council had not dropped the question and that it would be taken up again at the next meeting.

Councilman Wagoner said that the council intended to change the ordinance presented by the railroad, providing for gates at Main and Perkins streets and bells at the other crossings, by eliminating all reference to bells, and that the remainder of the ordinance would be left unchanged or would be made to provide that the railroad afford protection at Main and Perkins streets until after the nine o'clock train at night, with flagmen.

However, many people are still of the opinion that the council will make a grave error if the ordinance is not passed so as to compel the railroad to erect gates at Main and Perkins street. Four fatalities have resulted at these two crossings in recent months, which aroused the agitation for better protection, especially from the two night trains when there are no flagmen on duty.

Following the killing of three young people at the Perkins street crossing last October, a number of local citizens took up the question of installing gates at Main and Perkins streets and the railroad sent its superintendent and an engineer here to inspect the local situation. E. A. Worthington, president of the railroad, wrote a letter in which he said the railroad was very anxious to make some arrangements which would prevent the crossing fatalities here.

The C. I. & W. took up the matter with their local attorney, D. L. Smith, and a few weeks ago he presented an ordinance to the city council, providing for gates at Perkins and Main streets and automatic bells at the other crossings. Objections were promptly raised against the bells because of the noise they make. The general counsel for the railroad appeared before the council here two weeks ago and argued in favor of the ordinance. He declared a willingness on the part of the railroad to install the gates, even though the other flagmen were not replaced with automatic bells.

Consequently, many people who were familiar with the proceedings were surprised to read that the council had decided not to make any changes in the present system of protection at C. I. & W. crossings.

TO SUCCEED W. E. FRAZIER

Earl Priest, county assessor, today announced that he had appointed Sanford L. Anderson as assessor for Center township to take the place of William E. Frazier, former assessor of the township, who died at the Dr. Sexton hospital here last Sunday morning. W. A. Lord of Mays will act as Mr. Anderson's deputy, it was stated.

A.B. IRVIN SERIOUSLY ILLRushville Mayor is In Hospital in Los Angeles, Cal.

Dr. D. H. Dean of this city received a telegram this afternoon, stating that his brother-in-law, Mayor A. B. Irvin of this city, was in a serious condition in a hospital in Los Angeles, where he had gone to spend the remainder of the winter for the benefit of his health. Mayor Irvin had been in poor health for over a year, suffering with a chronic physical illness, and specialists in Indianapolis had advised a change of climate. The trip over the mountains is said to have renewed his illness, and he has been confined in a hospital in Los Angeles for several weeks.

WORLD WAR VETERAN
DIES THIS MORNINGHerbert Maple, 27, Expires at Hospital After Serious Operation—
Lived in AndersonvilleJOINED COMPANY B HERE

Herbert Maple, age 27 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Maple of Andersonville, died this morning at 4:30 at the Dr. Sexton hospital in this city, following complications arising from an operation for a burst appendix.

The deceased was well known here, and was a world war veteran, having enlisted in this city with the formation of Company B. After his discharge from the service he returned to Andersonville and was assisting his father in the blacksmith shop. A week ago Monday he was taken ill, and brought here for an emergency operation.

Mr. Maple is survived by his parents, two sisters and three brothers. The sisters are Mrs. Gertrude Lockwood of Laurel and Selma, who lived at home, and the brothers are, Clarence of New Salem, Rex of near Glenwood and Theodore who is in the Hawaiian Islands in government service.

The funeral services will probably be held Sunday, at Andersonville, and an announcement will be made later.

ADVISORY BOARD
DISCUSSES ORPHANSSalvation Army Organization Meets
With Field Representative
Thursday EveningDETAILS BEING WORKED OUT

At the second meeting held since its organization, the Salvation Army advisory board, Thursday evening, discussed the question of procedure in adopting orphans. W. F. Junge, field representative of the Salvation Army, who organized the advisory board here a few weeks ago, was present for the meeting and outlined in greater detail the duties of the board.

Dependent orphans in need of homes will be looked after by the advisory board and their cases investigated and recommendations made to the Salvation Army before any steps are taken. This is only one of the activities of the board.

Certain members of the board, which is composed of fourteen men, are now preparing data on local conditions concerning Americanization, juvenile delinquency, prison work, unemployment, poverty, pauperism and dependent maternity cases, which will be reported to the Salvation Army.

Capt. Sparks of the local corps will meet with the board at the next meeting and take up methods of cooperation.

TO ABOLISH STATE
ROAD COMMISSIONSenator Nejd Introduces Bill Following Disclosures of State
Board of AccountsTOO MUCH OVERHEAD, CHARGEL. H. Wright, Director of Highway Body Characterizes Report as Unfair and Unjust

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 18.—James J. Nejd, state senator from Lake county, introduced a bill in the legislature today which would abolish the state highway commission and transfer the funds now available to that body to the state school fund.

Senator Nejd introduced his bill in the light of a report by the state board of accounts which revealed mismanagement and inefficiency and questionable disbursements of funds by the highway commission.

The report showed that the overhead expenses of the highway commission aggregated 39 percent of all department funds and that the expenditures for actual construction were less than the overhead expenses.

Discussion of the report occupied nearly the entire morning session of the senate when that body took up the Moorehead bill authorizing the director of the conservation department to draw money from the state treasury to pay services from day to day. This measure passed the senate after an amendment to limit the amount to $1,100 a month. The amendment was made in view of the statement in the report that L. H. Wright, director of the highway commission, handled the funds of the commission through his personal checking account.

As originally introduced the Moorehead bill was similar to that part of the highway law under which Wright deposited more than two million dollars of the state funds under his own name.

Unfair, Says Wright

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 18.—L. H. Wright, director of the state highway commission today characterized as unfair and unjust the report of the state board of accounts on affairs of the highway body.

Wright took the report step by step and discussed every feature of it. Regarding the two million dollar revolving fund which Wright withdrew from the state treasury department, under his own name, he stated he did this in behalf of the commission on the advice of former

Augustine TodayFOUR POSTS YET UNFILLED

(By United Press)

St. Augustine, Fla., Feb. 18.—Charles Evans Hughes who will be premier in the Harding cabinet, was due here today to confer with the president-elect regarding international policies of the incoming administration and appointments for posts in the state department and diplomatic service.

It is only two weeks from today that Harding will become president. He has yet to make final decisions on four places in the cabinet. Unexpected developments may cause an entire rearrangement of the present line-up, but Harding does not think that this will be necessary.

The posts unfilled are navy, labor commerce and treasurer. Harding's close friends today believed that there was little question that Andrew Mellon of Pittsburgh will be made secretary of the treasury. There are also close impressions that A. T. Hert of Kentucky will enter the cabinet as secretary of the navy. Herbert Hoover, it was stated authoritatively today, is far from being eliminated and may become secretary of commerce.

8 TEAMS ARE READY FOR TOURNAY GAMES

Tomorrow Will be a Big Day Here When County High School Teams Compete For Honors

CARTHAGE, MANILLA STRONG

Everything is in readiness here for the opening game in the morning when eight county high school basketball teams will engage in an all day session of games, in order to win out for the final game at night. During the last two weeks the gymnasium has undergone some repairs, and the north wall has been torn down, and set back four feet, which will prevent players from climbing the wall.

The playing floor was thus made larger, and the extra room was taken off of the dressing rooms, which were large anyway. By eliminating the solid wall at the north end, it makes both baskets now suspended over the floor.

The first game in the morning will be played at 8:30 between Raleigh and Rushville. All games will be played right on time. There will be only one game at night, and will star at 7:15 sharp. It is the general belief that Rushville will reach the final game without much difficulty, and will have either Carthage or Manilla as their opponents in the last game. Either of these teams will put up a good game for the final scrap.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Catt were among the visitors today in Indianapolis.

The order of the grand jury was given the sheriff this afternoon and they will be asked to report Tuesday morning.

Prosecutor Stevens has been reluctant in giving out any information and from the very beginning attempted to keep facts under cover. MAN HUNT IN FULL SWING IN DUBLIN

Reported That "General" Michael Collins of Irish Republican Army Was There

SECTION OF CITY ISOLATED

(By United Press) Dublin, Ireland, Feb. 18.—A great man hunt is in full swing in Dublin today. Whole sections of the city on the north side were gone over by troops who rushed into it in armored cars.

Throughout the early morning hours the city resounded with the roar of motor cars, shots from pistols and shouts of command.

There have been various rumors as to the identity of the man that is being hunted, but it is understood that "General" Michael Collins, of the Irish Republican army, was hiding in the vicinity.

Collins who was recently reported killed in battle but reappeared shortly afterwards, was reported to have entered Dublin for a council of war.

Descending upon the district in motor lorries, the soldiers leaped from their cars, began unrolling large spools of barbed wire and constructed entanglements at all street openings.

Armed cars driven through the area carried large search lights which threw their rays on the houses undergoing search. It was hinted that that section of the city would be isolated for a considerable time.

COLDEST WEATHER COMING

Federal Bureau Announces Lowest Temperatures May be Expected

Washington, Feb. 18.—"The coldest weather of the winter may be expected over much of the country during the coming week" the weather bureau announced today. A cold wave extending north over the gulf and south Atlantic states carrying freezing temperature is announced for the first part of the coming week.

The weather man made good on his prediction Thursday evening and this morning the temperature was under twenty degrees above zero. Cold weather continued all day but the mercury mounted slowly and the prediction for tonight and tomorrow is for increasing cloudiness and unsettled, warmer weather.

CONFIDENCE IN PREMIER

Vote is Given Lloyd George in Parliament Today, 181 to 40

(By United Press) London, Feb. 18.—Premier Lloyd George was given a vote of confidence today by a vote of 181 to 40. The vote came on a motion to amend the king's address implying criticism of the premier's postwar policies.

Action to compel Germany to meet the allied demands will be taken if necessary, the premier told the house of commons today. "Before pressure is applied the allied governments, parliament, and the people must be convinced that German failure to disarm and pay the required reparations is a deliberate attempt to defy them," he said.

NATIONAL GUARD WILL BE STRONGER

Reorganization of Indiana's Unit is Said to be Coming Along in Big Style, Says Smith

HAS $200,000 APPROPRIATION

Total Strength to be Ready June 30 is 3,169 and Forms 3/5 of National Guard Unit

(By United Press) Indianapolis, Feb. 18.—The Indiana national guard will soon be as strong and possibly stronger than the pre-war peace-time guard. Adjutant General Harry B. Smith said today. The adjutant general has charge of reorganizing the guard Indiana under the federal national guard act.

The legislature has appropriated $200,000 to carry out the task and it is understood a bill supplemental to the appropriation is being drafted for presentation to the general assembly. The bill now being drawn would make the Indiana law conform to the federal law.

Under the federal law, Indiana would be required to form three-fifths of the national guard division to be organized from West Virginia, Kentucky and Indiana. This state will also be called upon to furnish one major general and two brigadier generals.

The total strength of the Indiana guard to be ready June 30 is 3,169. These outfits will constitute the guard at that time; one regiment of infantry, one regiment of 155 point field artillery, two ambulance companies, one battalion of engineers, and one machine gun battalion. The peace time strength of the guard before the war was about 3,050.

Beginning July 1, Adjutant General Smith will start recruiting another regiment of infantry in compliance with organization plans sent him from Washington.

Formation of an aero squadron and a signal battalion is also being planned by Smith. The aero squadron may be organized at Kokomo if the plans go through.

In the new organization, Indianapolis will furnish four companies of infantry and one company will be supplied by each of the following cities: Evansville, Terre Haute, New Albany, Martinsville, Shelbyville, Richmond, Newcastle, Ft. Wayne, Elkhart, Rensselaer, Anderson, and Crawfordsville. The supply company will be recruited at Attica and the howitzer company in Goshen. Colonel Ray McAdams, of Ft. Wayne will have command of the infantry.

The field artillery will be recruited at the following cities: Battery A, Evansville; Battery B, Ft. Wayne; Battery C, Kokomo; Battery D, Madison; Battery E, Lafayette. Battery F, Bloomington; headquarters company from Muncie. Colonel Walter V. Unsworth of Kokomo will command the field artillery.

These cities will be asked to supply the engineer battalion: Gary and Hobart, three companies. Major A. P. Melton of Gary will command the engineers.

Two ambulance companies will be formed at Marion, one to be horse drawn and the other motorized.

The machine gun battalion is to be recruited in Indianapolis under command of Major M. G. Henry.

TO ABOLISH STATE ROAD COMMISSION

"I would be very much pleased if that fund were kept under the control of the auditor and administered with the state funds," Wright stated. "It would make less clerical work and would be a help in my office."

"The way in which the overhead expenses were figured is entirely unfair," Wright said. He declared that "you can figure overhead expenses and get any percent you please. Figured fairly the overhead expenses of the highway department would be less than six percent," he added.

PROPOSED BILL TO PROTECT AGED PEOPLE

Rep. Adams Has Measure Which Makes it Unlawful For Parents to be Neglected by Children

FINE AND PENALTY INCLUDED

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 18.—Under the provisions of Representative Adams's bill now pending before the legislature, any person neglecting to support his or her parents when the latter are unable to maintain themselves would be guilty of misdemeanor and would be liable to a fine not exceeding $200 and a jail sentence not exceeding six months.

Section of the bill reads as follows:

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the state of Indiana, that hereafter any person being of full age and being financially able as has neglected, or shall here after without reasonable cause neglect to maintain and support his or her parents if such parents be not able to work and have not sufficient means or ability to maintain or support themselves such persons shall be deemed guilty of misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be fined in any sum not exceeding $200, to which may be added imprisonment in the county jail for a period not exceeding six months.

Evidence of Good Leadership

Evidence of good leadership in dealing with financial and taxation questions is being displayed by both branches of the legislature. Before the house and senate were convened six weeks ago for the present session, fear existed that it would be impossible to prevent the enactment of many measures which would prove costly to the taxpayers.

One bill was introduced in the house to provide for a levy of twenty cents on the hundred dollars for public school purposes. If this bill had been adopted in its original form, it would have cost the taxpayers at least ten million dollars more annually than they are now paying. It has been more difficult to defeat this measure than many people not on the ground realize. Representatives from some counties which have comparatively small assessment have favored the bill as a means of getting more money for their schools.

A compromise has been reached which seems fair to the entire state. It provides that a levy of seven cents on the hundred shall be made for the schools and it is thought that there seems no doubt that however, good judgment and good leadership were required to bring about a compromise and preserve harmony. By exhibition of the same qualities, the senate and house have been able to hold the levy for the higher state schools to five cents. The original demand was for seven cents.

The house passed a bill fixing the levy at one-half of one cent for vocational educational school purposes. Originally the bill called for a levy of one cent.

The senate has passed a bill providing for a very small fractional levy for the agricultural department of Purdue University. This bill was passed in the interest of the farmers.

The attitude the majority have taken on all these measures showed that they are determined to make good their promises that expenditures and taxation will be kept down to the very lowest possible point. These measures have advanced so far that there seems no doubt that they will be adopted largely in their present form.

More Buying Abroad

Our imports during 1920 increased 35 per cent, while our exports increased only 4 per cent. That fact is given by one expert as the reason for present unemployment in this country. It is apparent that the administration is utterly incapable of protecting American industry under normal conditions. The moment the artificial protection supplied by the war was removed, and the artificial stimulation to American exports due to the same cause was taken away, the incapacity of the free trade policy for sound legislation stood revealed. Not until our industries are protected by a protective tariff from cheap foreign imports, and our exports are stimulated under sound leadership, will unemployment in this country become a thing of the past.

Twenty years ago 39 cents out of every dollar of railroad earnings was spent for wages; last year 52 cents out of every dollar earned by the roads went for wages. That is something worth keeping in mind while discussing railroad problems.

It is estimated that there are about four million men in this country out of employment, but country editors are not included. The income of the news gatherer may decrease, but never his hours of toil.

THE TREND of LEGISLATION

BY GEO. W. STOUT
State Chamber of Commerce

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 18.—The consumption of Indiana coal by Indiana consumers, or at least an increased use in Indiana or Indiana coal, is one result brought about by the operation of the law which established the special food and fuel commission in the State, according to the report just made by the commission to the Legislature.

The commission's report declares that through its activities in the fuel emergency period, business relations were established between coal dealers and coal mine operators who never before had been brought into business contact. In other words, one effect of the law has been to place Indiana coal with dealers, and in the bins of consumers who never before had used that product or handled that particular coal.

In the report it is intimated that if all operators of Indiana coal mines had co-operated with the commission as did a portion of the mine-owners, "the consumption of Indiana coal by compulsion to a have been doubled or tripled."

From the very first keen students of the law creating the food and fuel commission have accepted the measure as, in effect, introducing Indiana coal by compulsion to a large number of new customers and consumers, leaving it only to producers of Indiana coal to instruct the people in the best use of the fuel and to make permanent the emergency market for their coal. Some operators have declined to see anything in the statute save an attempt to "regulate" an industry "out of business." The commission points out that these reluctant and hostile operators have been overlooking a good opportunity to increase their own business on a permanent basis in fields not before developed.

The coal commission's report shows $104,907.45 taken in under the law as license fees and tonnage fees paid by operators, dealers and jobbers. It is stated that many additional thousands of dollars will be collected in the event the United States Supreme Court finally rules the Indiana food and fuel law is constitutional.

The commission is to go out of business March 31, under the law, and the report suggests that the tonnage tax on coal now be cut from 1 cent per ton to 1/2 of a cent, effective only until March 31.

A feature of this report which will interest many is the revelation that the law carried no appropriation with which the commission could investigate, or start to investigate food prices and conditions in Indiana. Hence there is nothing to be reported for the benefit of those who have been wanting to know about food prices. The commission was supposed to be preparing food regulation recommendations under the law to be acted upon by this Legislature. Fuel fees could not be used in food probes. So there are no recommendations on the food regulation problem. This failure in the law is causing a lot of comment, but the commission is known to have been helpless under the legal restrictions imposed by the oversight of a former legislature.

Having worked with the utmost energy and fine intelligence to assist in modifying the tax law to meet the needs of the people and the demands of justice and equity under the limits of the old Constitution Fred A. Sims is preparing to withdraw from the Indiana State Tax Board March 1, and will practice law in Indianapolis. Gov. McCray, in appreciation of the cooperation offered by Mr. Sims in recent weeks in preparing amendment to the tax law along lines suggested by the state administration, and on lines that are expected to make the law workable, has declared publicly his regret that he is unable to command the continued services of Mr. Sims on the Tax Board.

Spirited opposition developed in the last few days against the provision in a trust company bill which would add life insurance to the functions of trust companies in Indiana. The bill was intended to legalize certain activities in which the trust companies already were engaged. The argument was made against the life insurance clause that it would "put 10,000 life insurance agents out of business." The senate killed the provision. One of the most determined and impressive lobbies of the session appeared on either side of this dispute at the finish of the fracas.

Insurance men are making a vigorous fight against a bill which would put power in the hands of the head of the industrial board arbitrarily to wipe off the state certain charges for liability insurance now being collected from industries. The premium on liability or compensation insurance is based on an "estimated pay roll," for one thing. At the end of the year, when an audit shows the payroll of the insured industry actually has been far in excess of the estimate made in advance, the insurance company collects additional premiums accordingly. It is asserted by the insurance men that the bill they now oppose would give the state's commissioner arbitrary power to "abolish" this additional premium, though the fee is alleged to be fair and proper. It is charged that the bill was drawn by a well known attorney who is close to the powers named in the measure to exercise new additional powers.

Vocational training in Indiana has some able advocates who refuse to drop their efforts to obtain from this session of the Legislature an adequate special tax levy to develop vocational training in the schools of the state. The request was for a 1-cent levy. The House voted in favor of 1/2 of a cent on each $100 of taxable. In the Senate a definite movement is well started to set the levy at 3/4 of a cent. This would raise $450,000 a year on present tax valuations, but much of this would go, under the law, to pay the State's part of salaries for county agents.

The Sport of Hunting Whales

BY ROBERT E. MANSFIELD.

Recent recommendations of food conservationists that whale meat be utilized as a substitute for beef, suggests a possible revival of the whale fishing industry in the United States. This industry which had its beginning in the latter part of the eighteenth century, and reached its greatest importance in 1846, was then centered in Nantucket, and the youth of that historic town are still regaled with tales of adventure related by the fisher folk, of the days when thousands of men went to sea in search of the mammoth mammals.

Whales were then hunted in small boats, with harpoons thrown by hand. In more recent years mechanical appliances have reduced whale fishing to purely a commercial basis and robbed it of its erstwhile romance. The style and equipment of the craft now employed in the business are in strange contrast with those in use a few generations ago.

The modern whaler is a small steamer, and in general appearance is a naked, ugly craft, with a tall funnel and two short masts. The bottom is painted green to conform to the tint of the sea. The bows flare high to give room for a gun platform, and the stern rides low, giving the propeller a deep drive, so that it makes little disturbance of the water on the surface.

The frame work is iron, with a narrow navigating platform and a small steering box on top of the front end of the house. Attached to the foremast is a barrel shaped lookout. In the bow is a small cannon mounted on swivel bearings. The gun is loaded with an iron crow, pointed with a thin shaped time shell, with four hinged barbs lashed to the shaft with strands of yarn rope. When the shell explodes the barbs are released. Under the muzzle of the cannon is a steel tray containing fifty fathoms of wire cable, one end of which is fastened to a ring in the slotted shaft of the harpoon, the other attached to the cylinder of a steam winch on the deck.

It was the privilege of the writer, while living on the Pacific coast some years ago, to make a trip on a whaling vessel, and to witness the capture of a large whale. The cruise was made in the Pacific, north of the Island of Vancouver. As the ship steamed slowly through the grey seas, the lookout was occupied by a man with a field glass who constantly swept the surface of the waters. Behind the gun stood a man with one hand on the pointer by which it is turned on the swivel, his attention centered upon the expanse of water directly ahead.

In the afternoon of the second day of the cruise the ship was plunging through the undulating sea, leaving a ribbon of foam in its wake, and a cloud of smoke trailing like a black pennon in the rear, when the man in the lookout directed attention to a cloud of spray rising above the surface of the water, like a playing fountain, a mile or more away. The gunner nodded in response to the signal, leaned forward like a hunter approaching his quarry signaled the steersman, and the vessel changed its course. Orders were given to slow down, and soon the ship was slipping noiselessly through the water, propelled by its own weight. But the silence was short. The ship was approaching a grey monster in the sea. A great head appeared not twenty fathoms away, and with a fizzing noise emitted a spreading cloud of vapor.

Slowly the head disappeared and a huge, shiny back hunched above the water. The gunner took his time—what seemed an interminable time, aimed deliberately at the shining flank, and turned the firing screw.

An orange tinted flame spurted from the mouth of the cannon, the air vibrated with a crashing roar, and the vessel shuddered as if it had struck a rock. Through the smoke flew whirling coils of cable, and almost under the bow the sea boiled and bubbled and surged. The grey monster disappeared, and there was a grating of iron gears as the cable unwound from the winch, and spun over a wheel in the bow. In response to a call through the speaking tube, the propeller reversed, and the steamer moved slowly astern.

At the end of the cable, fathoms below the surface, the vastest of mammals, stricken sore, shattered internally, struggled and strained for freedom—for life, but in vain. Slowly the huge carcass was hoisted to the surface. Air was pumped into it by team—pressure, through a hose with a hollow lance nozzle, until half of the great bulk, resembling a small grey island, floated above the water, over which men from the ship scrambled, appraising and estimating the value of the kill.

For Avenue Fashions—Mid-West Not Strong

By "MARJORIE"
Cleveland, Feb. 18.—The mid-western women is championing the cause of conservative fashions.

The shopping district of this city has been offering spring styles for some weeks. Everything, however—dresses, shoes, hats, gloves, coats, wraps and suits—are quite different from the garish, frilly effects as seen in the Fifth avenue shops in New York.

Most window displays are featuring a pale pearl gray and delft blue. This color scheme is used in hats, dresses and blouses. Blue taffeta, barred and checked, with the gray and gray silks striped with the blue, are very conspicuous. These crisp little taffetas continue the winter line of low waistline and wide ribbon sash.

Afternoon dresses favor gray georgette or crepe de chine. They are cut with the loose mandarin sleeve, flowing bell cuff, and are often beaded with pearl or iridescent beads down the long front panels. Glycerined ribbon sashes with huge bows are used in a contrasting color.

Coats are almost entirely in the castor or tan shades. They are made of soft pile fabrics such as peach bloom, duvet de laine, or bolivia and are embroidered in a harmonizing fleec. The majority of the models have the loose, unbelted back with convertible choker collar.

One of the most radical coats shown upon Euclid avenue was of midnight blue peachbloom cut a la cossack. It buttoned with huge metallic buttons from her to narrow shoulder. The unbelted back fell in supple folds and the entire effect was of the foreign military.

Hats also approve of gray and blue combinations. Chapeaux of crepe de chine or silk fabric combined with glazed straws are being worn considerably here. In fact, the midwest lady donned her spring "lid" with fully as much time to spare as had the Gotham woman of fashion.

Little ribbon dingle-dangle and frayed silk streamers that hang over the hat brim and whisk the tarloons are the favored form of hat trimming. There seems to be a dearth of feather trimming. Stiff flowers made of patent leather, kid or metal imitations are first in favor.

The midwest woman is gradually reaching the stage where she does not gasp at a semi-revealed knee. During the winter months, skirts were of quite a demure length, but they are going up as the new season comes in.

Golashes sprint under new spring suits fully as floppingly as they did in the winter months. A count taken of the feminine feet upon Euclid avenue found only one woman in eleven who was not wearing the favored golash.

The fourth reason assigned is that the contracting of such a debt based on inflated values, such as existed during the war period, is unjust and unfair to the taxpayers, because the value of the property in the township has decreased since the assessment for taxation purposes was made.

The fifth allegation against the bond issue is that it will be a burden to the taxpayers and that the cost of the school building will exceed its benefits.

Mothers, Prepare!

When a girl becomes a woman, when a woman becomes a mother and when a woman passes through the changes of middle life, are the three periods of life when Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is most needed. Many thousands would testify just as does the following:

TEAMS SLOW UP FOR TOURNAMENTS

College Quintets Have About Three Weeks Left on Schedules and High Schools Rest

MANY STRANGE UPSETS

"Dope" Selected Month Ago For High School Teams Proves Worthless as Tourney Draws Near

By HEZE CLARK
(Written for United Press)
Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 18.—Nearly all colleges of the state have only about three more weeks or less of basketball while the high school schedules are becoming lighter to rest the athletes for the series of tournaments which will decide the state high school championship in March.

It might be noted that many upsets have occurred recently in high school games and teams that early in the season appeared strong and sure to make a fight for state honors are slipping. In fact some of the teams picked a month ago by basketball critics as the probable basketball champions of the state appear to be losing their early season form to such an extent that they may be lucky to win their district tourneys.

Some coaches brought the high school teams to a fine edge too soon and the schedules have been hard for prep school athletes.

Rochester, a team which early this year was defeated in rather easy style by Anderson turned the tables on Anderson a week ago and won 48 to 24. Another upset was the recent defeat of Lebanon by technical.

Franklin is a team that cannot be overlooked. Early in the year the last season state champs were playing second rate basketball but it is not a weak team at Franklin now Coach Phillips at Elwood took an inexperienced set of athletes and taught them a lot of basketball. Elwood defeated Kokomo and it must be said Kokomo has a strong team. But just now it would seem that Rochester is looming up as the probable state high school basketball champion with another Northern Indiana rival in the Whiting, Indiana High school.

The week-end games on the Indiana colleges are not so important this week as heretofore, but some good games have been scheduled. Butler will play the Kalamazoo college team tonight and the Michigan team will find Coach Page's I. C. A. L. champions hard to defeat. Wabash and Earlham meet at Richmond.

Two conference games in which Hoosier teams play are on tap Saturday. Indiana meets Northwestern at Evanston and the Hoosier team should be a sure winner. Purdue and Iowa meet at Iowa City and that will be a close game.

LEGION TO THE RESCUE

Terre Haute, Ind., Feb. 18.—The American Legion came to the rescue of the Salvation Army here a few days ago when the army's hall proved too small to care for the crowds at their revival meetings. The Legionnaires loaned their rooms and they were crowded every night. Envoy G. H. Wine, who conducted the series of meetings, had fifty conversions. On watch night thirty-five consecrated their lives to the service of God and humanity.

TURN TABLES ON THE K. OF P. TEAM

Knights of Columbus Basketeers Thursday Night Even up For Recent Defeat

WIN BY SCORE OF 25 TO 10

Winners Strengthen While Losers Suffer Because of Absence of Some Good Men

The Knights of Columbus basketball team turned the tables on the Knights of Pythias team last night, and won an easy game, 25 to 10, having been defeated recently by the K. of P. team.

The K. of C. team jumped into the game early and in the first half piled up 13 points, while the K. of P. team was unable to make a field goal, and registered a lone counter from a foul attempt.

The K. of C. team was strengthened last night with the addition of Pyrne to their line-up, who was out of the former game. The K. of P. team did not have the same line-up that was used before, and Shaw, who featured the other game, was out last night.

In the last half the K. of P. team opened up with a few plays that brought in three field goals, and made nine points in the last half while the winners made 12.

Brown for the K. of P. team was the point getter on baskets while Byrne for the K. of C. team starred with six field goals. Many shifts in the K. of P. line-up was made in an effort to turn the tide, but to no avail, as the K. of C. team had things their own way.

A third game, which will decide the break, is being planned upon between the two lodges, and the date for this game will be announced later.

The score and summary of the game last night:

K. of C. (25)	K. of P. (10)
L. Caron ----- F. -----	Brown
Byrne ----- F. -----	Davis
I. Caron ----- C. -----	Goodin
F. Knecht ----- G. -----	Bell
Carroll ----- G. -----	McManus
Substitutions: K. of C. McCoy, and McCoy; K. of P., E. Steops and Staida. Field goals, L. Caron 3, Byrne 6, Knecht 3, Brown 2, McManus. Foul goals, L. Caron, Brown 2, Davis 2.

"IT'S THE GREATEST IN WORLD" SHE SAYS

South Bend Woman Says Tanlac Has Restored Her to Splendid Health After Everything Else Had Failed.

"Yes, I just think Tanlac is the grandest medicine in the world, for it has restored my health when nothing else seemed to help me a bit," said Mrs. Susie Wilson, of 1026 W. Oak St., South Bend, Ind.

"For three years I was a sufferer from stomach trouble and before I got Tanlac everything I ate would sour and ferment in my stomach. I was bilious most of the time, had awful headaches, and my kidneys were badly disordered.

"I had rheumatic pains all through my body, and for about five months was unable to do any work at all. I was so nervous that at night the least little noise would awaken me, and I would be awake for hours unable to go back to sleep. I lost my appetite completely, was in a dreadful condition and was going down hill every day.

"A friend of mine got me to try Tanlac, and six bottles of the medicine have fixed me up fine. I have a splendid appetite and can eat just anything I want at any time without my stomach troubling me a particle. My kidneys no longer bother me, and the rheumatism has so completely disappeared that my work is now a real pleasure.

"I have gained several pounds in weight, sleep good and sound every night and feel like an entirely different person. Tanlac is certainly a wonderful medicine, and I can't praise it enough for all it's done for me."

Tanlac is sold in Rushville by F. B. Johnson Co., in Milroy by Dallas Copper, in Manilla by Geo. J. Inlow, in Arlington by Mrs. L. T. Davis, in Carthage by Otto C. McCarty, and in New Salem by Mrs. Jos. Hankins, R. R. 2.—(Advertisement)

Harvester Company Brands Story False

DURING the past month, reports have come to us that at farmers' meetings charges have been made, sometimes directly and sometimes indirectly, that this Company has adopted a policy of refusing to supply repair parts for old machines in order to compel the purchase of new ones. This statement is absolutely false. Such a policy has never been considered by this Company nor suggested to it.

Ordinarily we ignore such reports, because we have learned that any large company, no matter how fair and high principled, is subject at all times to unjust criticism. The facts are this Company has always recognized the importance of repair service and has used every effort to make IHC service the best. We believe we can truthfully say that the repair service furnished wherever this Company's goods are sold is equal if not superior to that furnished on any manufactured line.

We call attention to the fact that machinery "Fix-up Weeks," instead of being something new and originated by the farmers in 1921, as some seem to think, were really an outgrowth of the movement started by manufacturers and dealers' associations in connection with the Council of National Defense as a war conservation measure. Perhaps no other agency has done so much to promote "National Repair Weeks" as this Company.

The farmer needs machines which will be efficient and economical. If his old machines can be repaired so as to render efficient and economical service, he would be foolish to purchase new ones. Whether the farmer utilizes and repairs his old machines or buys new ones is a question for him to determine. But in making his decision, we give to every farmer who owns any IHC machines the assurance that a full stock of repair parts will always be provided by this Company.

Today, our repair stocks on the territory available for the farmers are 21 per cent greater than ever before at this time of the year. An average of a quarter million pounds of repairs are shipped from IHC factories for every working day in the year. Thirty million dollars' worth of repair parts are now ready, as insurance for the farmer when he needs this service.

In every International Harvester Works manufacturing orders call for repair parts first and even when furnishing them has meant cutting down production of new machines for which we had orders, repairs have always had preference.

At every one of our 91 branch houses trained men are on duty to see that all orders are filled and shipped promptly. Thousands of dealers scattered everywhere with an assortment of repairs in stock are always ready and willing to render every assistance.

This service which this Company has rendered through the years to those who have purchased its machines has been a matter of great pride to the Company, and is the foundation of the cordial good-will existing between it and its customers.

We feel it is due the Company and those who have purchased its machines that we give the widest publicity to the fact that this service of repairs will be maintained and improved, and that any charges to the contrary are untrue.

GWYNNEVILLE MAN SUED BY CREDITOR

Receivership is Asked in Suit
Against Willard H. Meyers,
Owner of Store

JUDGMENT OF $115 SOUGHT

A suit was filed yesterday in the Shelby circuit court against Willard H. Meyers, owner of a general merchandising store in Gwynneville, in which a receiver is asked, and judgment on an account of $115 is sought by the plaintiffs, McNeil and Higgins Co., of Chicago.

Mr. Meyers was formerly a resident of Indianapolis. According to the complaint the account which is named has been due since Jan. 28, 1920. It is charged that the defendant is the owner of a large stock of merchandise which is not being given any care or attention and that the defendant leaves the store in the possession of inexperienced help for days at a time. It is also charged that Mr. Meyers is disposing of the stock as rapidly as possible and intends to put on a sale and sell at a great reduction in order to obtain money and placing the goods beyond the reach of the plaintiff. The plaintiffs also charge that there are a number of other creditors who should be protected through the medium of the receiver.

The Mauzy Company

Amusements

Lila Lee at Princess

A breath-taking story and a brilliant cast are the combination compromised in William De Mille's latest picture, "Midsummer Madness," which will be seen for the last time today.

The story was adapted from Cosmo Hamilton's novel, "His Friend and His Wife". Mr. Hamilton is well known as the author of "Scandal", "The Blindness of Virtue," and many other successful plays and stories.

The plot centers around two young married couples who are close friends. One of the wives is so lavish with the outward expressions of her love for her husband that he becomes a bit tired of her. Now that she is completely won, he longs for new fields to conquer. His friends' wife, on the other hand, is blessed with a husband who is more interested in business than in her; she craves romance. So the over-loved husband and his friend's under-loved wife are attracted to each other. In a moment of folly, they commit an indiscretion that nearly ruins four lives.

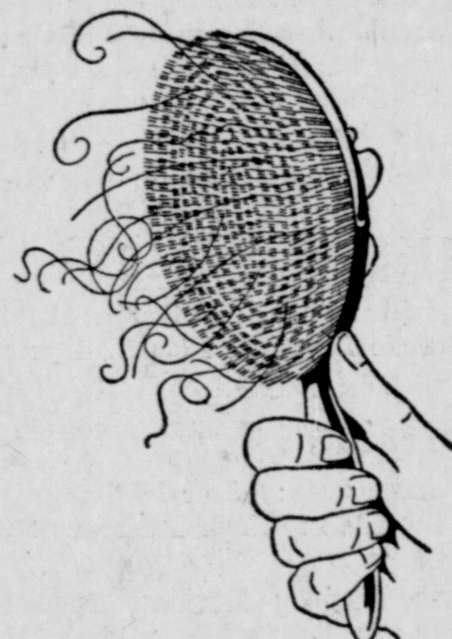

The cast of "Midsummer Madness" includes such sterling screen players as Lois Wilson, Jack Holt, Lila Lee and Conrad Nagel. The picture has been sumptuously produced and abounds in moments of unusual dramatic strength.

"From Now On," Mystic

George Walsh, who is coming to the Mystic Theatre today in "From Now On," a William Fox production from the pen of Frank L. Packard, author of "The Miracle Man," enjoys nothing more than to get a party of young fellows together—particularly college undergraduates—and have a real heart-to-heart chat with them. The Fox star understands these boys perfectly, and is in keenest sympathy with their mental processes. Being yet a young fellow himself, and not many years from college, he is in a position to com-

Take some Mood Change Charts home and make this experiment!

LET'S imagine you have just come home from shopping. You are tired and nervous. You step to the New Edison and put on an Edison RE-CREATION. Gradually the music soothes you. You forget fatigue and your "nerves" disappear. You feel refreshed and light-hearted.

Mr. Edison in his present great research is studying into the effects of music on the minds and moods of men.

Will you fill out a Mood Change

Chart, and do your bit for Mr. Edison's research?

Make the experiment in your own home. Come in. Let us give you a supply of Mood Change Charts. Have your family and your friends fill them out. They will find it more fun than Ouija.

If you don't own a New Edison, fill out a Chart in our store! Better yet, we will lend you a New Edison and a program of RE-CREATIONS so that you can give a Mood Change Party in your own home.

HARGROVE & MULLIN
Druggists

prehend the problems confronting these young men.

A little chat from George Walsh often will do more good than a batch of sermons, for he knows what he is talking about, and goes about it with the quiet, forceful tactics which are always sure to win. Walsh is a clean liver, an athlete; he spends an hour or more each day shadow-boxing, sparring, running, at work in the gym; and believes in "early to bed and early to rise." And he has the secret of a contented mind.

It is because George Walsh has found clean, wholesome, commonplace habits the foundation of his success that he is willing and anxious to pass the prescription along to the next fellow. And the "next fellow" is glad to listen; he knows he is getting straight goods."
